OHIO.

COLUMBUS, October 17.—The election returns as yet are of a very unsatisfactory character, and it is impossible to state definitely who will be next Governor. The Democratic State Committee, from their returns received from eighty-two counties, official, and guesses as to other counties, now claim Allen's election by 869 majority. There is considerable doubt as to the balance of the State ticket, but the Chairman of the Democratic Committee is of opinion that the Democrats have also elected the State ticket, with the exception of White, for Supreme Judge, and Wilson, for Comptroller. They also claim sixteen on joint ballot in the General Assembly. The Republicans do not give up the ship as yet, and claim that nothing but the full official returns can definitely decide the question as to who is elected. The Democrats hold a jollification meeting tomorrow night, at which Mr. Allen and others will speak.

CLEVELAND, O., October 17.—A mistake has been found in the count of Cuyahoga county in the returns of Tuesday's election, which now appears that Lowe, Democrat, for Representative, is defeated by Holt, Liberal Republican, by fifteen majority. This makes the delegation of this city to the House of Representatives three Republicans, one Liberal Republican and one Democrat.

IOWA.

CEDAR RAPIDS, October 17.—The Republican State Central Committee say, in sixty-six counties heard from, Governor Carpenter has a majority of 17,600 over Vale, leaving a net majority for Carpenter of 12,417. In the same counties last year Grant had a majority of 43,000. The counties yet to be heard from will undoubtedly increase Carpenter's majority not less than 6,000, making his total majority 18,000. Texas, 80; Arkansas, 83; Tennessee, 90; Missouri, 90.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

The Board of Examiners for the Treasury Department will hold a series of examinations, commencing October 28, to fill vacancies in the position of clerk. These will be the first examinations held in that Department under the new civil service rule of providing examinations by districts. It is understood from this that the intention of the Secretary of the Treasury to make appointments as far as practicable from the districts having less than their proportion of clerks in the Department. As most of the candidates will doubtless be from the vicinity of the District of Columbia, which already has much more than its proportion, only such vacancies as must immediately be filled will be filled from the District of Columbia. The remainder will be left open until the district examinations are completed. New York, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Savannah are competed.

CRIMES.

Charge of Treating a Railway Pass Book.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

FORT WAYNE, IND., October 17, 1873.

A printer named Charles L. Paul, recently at work in the Blade office at Toledo, was arrested here today for stealing a pass book, passes over the Wabash Railway, having a facsimile of the name of George H. Burrows, General Manager, and with the forged signature of W. J. Hay, Master Mechanic at this place. The officers of the road have been looking the source of these passes for some time, and have succeeded in tracing Paul to this city, where he facilities he had for traveling, but is now in jail awaiting trial.

Horrible Stabbing Affray.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 17.—A dispatch from Baker's Field, Kern county, California, gives particulars of a horrible affray near that place on election day. Carey Wilson and Hendricks, both of whom had voted for, and upon receiving a reply struck Gilman on the head with a pistol, inflicting a wound that resulted in the death of Gilman in a few minutes. The bystanders and others attempted to arrest Larry, when he drew a knife and stabbed Pepperd three times, killing him instantly. Larry then got the knife away from Wilson and stabbed him. Both fell and died within two minutes of each other.

The New York State Treasury Defalcation.

ALBANY, N. Y., October 17.—The State Treasurer has received replies from the county treasurers, and finds that the drafts they forwarded are all correctly noted in Phelps's book, and that there is a deficiency of about three hundred thousand dollars. Some of the drafts surreptitiously issued by Phelps were indorsed by him as cashier, but a large part were regularly indorsed by Deputy Treasurer Paul, $55,000 of the latter being issued to Phelps to liquidate to Charles Hudson, Cashier. Hudson's name on these drafts was written in by Phelps. Charles Hudson, Cashier, is connected with the firm of F. S. Sherwin & Co., New York, the drafts should have been made payable to E. Groesbeck, Cashier, of the Albany Commercial bank, and deposited in that bank. By making them payable to Hudson, Phelps diverted them from the proper depository and made them available to himself probably through Hudson. A warrant for the arrest of F. S. Sherwin & Co. has been issued.

CASUALTIES.

A Child Run Over and Killed.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial

GREENVILLE, O., October 17, 1873.

This afternoon, as the north bound train on the Dayton and Union Railroad was passing Arcanum, about two miles from this place, a little child, named McNutt, was run over and so seriously injured that it cannot live. It had been playing near the road, and stepped upon the track when the train was so close that it was impossible to stop.

The Boston Grange of the Patrons of Husbandry.

The members of the National Grange of the Patrons of Husbandry seem to be reversing the old adage, and are figuratively beating their plow shares and pruning hooks into the implements of warfare against the recently established Boston Grange. It appears that that Grange was organized by grain merchants, who, it is alleged are more or less in league with railroad monopolies and grain rings, and therefore a very objectionable class to the hard handed sons of toil. The National Grange do not recognize grain merchants within their circle, and have recalled the charter granted, charging that it was obtained under false colors. The Boston city agriculturists, however, have not, as yet, seen fit to return the desired document. It is the impression that this controversy, more strictly defining the eligibility of members, will result in the organization of a rival society under the designation, "The Patrons of Industry."

Spanish-American Claims.

The proceedings of the Spanish-American Claims Commission has practically came to a halt. In several instances claims have been sent to Cuba for verification and have worked to the disadvantage of sympathizers with Cuban freedom. Copies of the testimony have been sent from here and have been used as the grounds for a system of cruel persecution.

Montgomery Blair

left this evening to stump Maryland for the Democrats. This member of the irrepressible Blair family, it is understood, has an eye upon the Senatorial seat now filled by Mr. Hamilton.

THE COTTON CROP.

The average condition of the cotton crop has fallen off from 99 to 78½ since the first week in September. The October status of the crop is materially reduced. The State average are as follows: Virginia, 96; North Carolina, 88; South Carolina, 80; Georgia, 82; Florida, 76; Alabama, 75; Mississippi, 80; Louisiana, 75; Texas, 80; Arkansas, 83; Tennessee, 90; Missouri, 90.

THE BAZAINE COURT MARTIAL.

PARIS, October 17.—The trial of Marshal Bazaine was resumed to-day. The President of the Court asked why only two dispatches, one on the 26th of September and the other on the 21st of October, were sent by the Marshal to the Government of National Defense. Bazaine replied that he had received none of that government's communication. In answer to other questions he stated that in sending General Bourbaki to the Empress he sent him to the one who in his view was the only representative of government. He had received no official information of the general elections. The President said the Marshal's intention of reaching Thionville did not agree with his theory that after the surrender of Sedan a sortie from Metz was impossible, and he put the question, whether or not the Marshal had agreed with the Prussians to cease offensive movements from the time of Bourbaki's departure. Bazaine replied by pointing to the subsequent engagements in September and October. President: Why was there no serious engagement for the purpose of supporting the negotiations of the government of National Defense? Bazaine: Our sick and wounded prevented; such a course would have used up the army, while the enemy were all the time being reinforced. He said he never at any time treated Regnier's mission seriously. Commandants of corps were aware of Regnier's affair, although it was not mentioned in the council of war held on the 10th of October. He had always acted honestly according to the dictates of his conscience. Being asked the object of General Boyer's journey to England about the 19th of October, the accused said he hoped the Empress would obtain the conclusion of the convention, especially if she could be induced to come to Metz. The President reminded accused of his military oath, and asked him whether he observed regulations forbidding capitulation in open field. Bazaine pleaded as justification the existence of the insurrectionary government. The President asked if the imperial constitution, to which he considered it his duty to remain faithful, authorized the negotiating and treating with the enemy as he did. The Marshal replied that it did not. He maintained that a capitulation was not compulsory. He had resisted to the last, not even having a morsel of bread left. The accused was embarrassed in his manner, and often hesitated in making his replies to the searching interrogations of the court.

THE MONARCHIST PROPOSAL.

The monarchists are confident of a majority in the Assembly.

The Irish Catholic Convention at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, October 17.—In the Irish Catholic Convention this afternoon, after the disposal of constitutional amendments, Father Phelan, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, submitted the following report:

Resolved, That the present deplorable attitude of the government towards religion and religious instruction is the result of the abandonment of true, true, necessary and saving principles conditioned of God and the expression of His Holy will.

Resolved, That the conduct of governments and rulers in permitting the detronement of the Temporal power of the Supreme Pontiff and the Kingdom of Italy is flagrant injustice to Rome and only by stealing of which could, a crime against truth, social stability and the rights of God. The present imprisonment of the Sovereign Pontiff are beheld with condemnation, and the sacrilegious whose offspring will some day return to torment their parents. The officers of the Italian army, in ravished city of Peter, we extend our profoundest sympathy, joined with the wish and prayer that he may soon be seen in his crown and kingdom once more wrested from the grasp of despoilers.

Resolved, That we hereby enter our solemn protest against the unjust persecutions inaugurated against our mother church by the government of Prussia, and offer to the German Archbishops and Bishops as well as to the German Catholic clergy and the brave and female religieuse, the assurance of our best sympathy.

Resolved, That morality grounded on religion and religious principles, and not on fixed and dogmatic principles, are the surest guide and firmest support of man in all his relations, duties and situations of life, and the rest Larry, when he drew a knife and stabbed Pepperd three times, killing him instantly. Larry then got the knife away from Wilson and stabbed him. Both fell and died within two minutes of each other.

The New York State Treasury Defalcation.

ALBANY, N. Y., October 17.—The State Treasurer has received replies from the county treasurers, and finds that the drafts they forwarded are all correctly noted in Phelps's book, and that there is a deficiency of about three hundred thousand dollars. Some of the drafts surreptitiously issued by Phelps were indorsed by him as cashier, but a large part were regularly indorsed by Deputy Treasurer Paul, $55,000 of the latter being issued to Phelps to liquidate to Charles Hudson, Cashier. Hudson's name on these drafts was written in by Phelps. Charles Hudson, Cashier, is connected with the firm of F. S. Sherwin & Co., New York, the drafts should have been made payable to E. Groesbeck, Cashier, of the Albany Commercial bank, and deposited in that bank. By making them payable to Hudson, Phelps diverted them from the proper depository and made them available to himself probably through Hudson. A warrant for the arrest of F. S. Sherwin & Co. has been issued.

NEW YORK, October 17.—Rev. Morgan Dix acknowledges the receipt of $31 dollars for the sick at Memphis, and has carefully mentions the kindness of the Adams Express Company in sending funds thither without charge.

CHARLESTON, S. C., October 17.—At a public meeting of citizens to-day it was resolved to send physicians, nurses and clergymen to Memphis, if needed, besides whatever money can be raised.

The Postal Telegraph and Postal Savings Bank System.

BALTIMORE, October 17.—Postmaster General Creswell addressed a large Republican meeting to-night. The principal feature in his speech was an allusion and severe criticism of the postal telegraph and postal savings bank system, the speaker arguing that the latter afforded the surest means by which corporations could be protected from lawless speculation and guarded by absolute security. Its successful establishment and beneficial working in Great Britain for twelve years were evidence of the feasibility and practical importance of such measures.

STATE NEWS.

The Pottsville Daily Standard has been enlarged by the addition of a column to each page. It is a neat, newsy, enterprising journal.

The Scranton Republican says: "At the present time there are over one hundred cases of small-pox in Hyde Park, and the disease on the increase. In several instances corpses have been known to remain unburied for three and four days."

A few ruffed grouse are still to be found in Dauphin county.

Samuel Barclay, of Milford township, Somerset county, raised this year 187 bushels of corn from one acre and a quarter of ground. This is not mere guess work, but a true measurement of both land and corn.

The surviving officers and soldiers of the 143d, 149th and 150th regiments of Pennsylvania volunteers will hold their annual reunion at the old camp ground, near Hagerstown, Md., on the 9th of November next. It is expected that Generals Dodge, Dana, Osborne and Rosecky, Colonel Dwight, and other distinguished soldiers will be present, Major Chamberlain, of the 150th regiment, will deliver the annual address.

There are at present over two hundred scholars at the Soldiers' Orphan School at Mercer.

The Bethlehem Iron Company have resumed work in their rail-mill in South Bethlehem.

The slate companies at Slatington have failed to pay off on Saturday, their regular monthly pay-day.

The dwelling house and store of Mr. Shafer, in Freidensburg, Somerset county, were destroyed by fire on Wednesday morning before daylight. The origin of the fire is supposed to have become separated and the flames communicating to the adjoining wood. Most of the store goods were saved.

The two furnaces at Orbisonia are being pushed very rapidly. They will be magnificent structures, costing about $300,000, and when completed are to be of a capacity to yield thirty tons each of metal per day.

By one blast thirty-six car loads of limestone were dislodged in the extensive quarry at Union Station, on the Reading and Columbia Railroad, a few days ago. This is the largest blast ever made in the stone quarry, a keg of powder having been consumed for the purpose.

The buckwheat crop in Eastern Pennsylvania will be more productive than that just harvested. It was not uninjured by the hot suns of August or the early frosts of the latter part of September.

It is sometimes very annoying to have people volunteer information upon subjects in regard to which their ignorance is remarkable; but that man was decidedly aggravating who said that Pennsylvania is so sensuality, and of evil, social and national corruption.

A long, spirited and somewhat acrimonious debate ensued on the last resolution, and the Convention adjourned.

CHARLESTON, S. C., October 17

The Daily Commercial.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1873.

The city of Lancaster last year gave BUCKALEW 415 majority. This year it gives GORDON 49 majority for Supreme Judge, elects a Republican School Board, entire, and the Republican Councilmen in eight out of the nine wards. Well done, Lancaster!

The Scranton Republican says that the Republicans have elected all their candidates on the county ticket by from 500 to 1,500 majority in Luzerne county. Nothing is said of the Legislature; but we presume the Republican candidates have been successful.

Among the queer results of the election, this year, are the election of Republican candidates for the Legislature in Fayette and Greene, and of Democratic candidates in Delaware and Mercer. If we had been asked to pick any four counties in the State in which such results might be regarded as impossible, these would have been the very counties we would have chosen.

Hon. Charles Reed, a member of the English Parliament, and Vice President of the London School Board, has just concluded a careful examination of the school systems of our country, for which purpose he came here. He expresses himself as greatly pleased with the American method of teaching, and considers it vastly superior to the system in vogue in England. He will strongly urge its adoption upon the educational authorities of London.

The light vote, on Tuesday last, especially in the country districts, is but a poor comment on public intelligence. That men who bear on their shoulders the responsibility of choosing their public officers and of carrying on the government, should deliberately abandon the exercise of their duties and leave the result to the blindest of chances, is astonishing. Such negligence is criminal, and although no evil effects may in this instance flow from it, directly, the disregard of a plain duty is none the less shameful.

The metric system of weights, measures and coins is making quite rapid strides, and nearly every European country is taking steps to secure metric standards. The British Scientific Association, at its recent annual meeting, passed a resolution requesting Parliament, at its next session, to take measures to facilitate the adoption of metric weights and measures. The subject is one of great importance to commerce and international intercourse.

It seems probable that the ultimate result of the failure to harmonize the warring factions of Apollo Hall and Tammany, will be that the former will form a junction with the Liberal Republicans on the New York city and county offices, and by this means prevent the election of the Tammany candidates. The Apollos claim to be able to cast twenty-five thousand votes. The Republicans, under these circumstances, would seem to have an easy victory before them.

Col. Wm. M. Grosvenor, formerly the active partner of the long since dissolved firm of "Bill and Joe," whom every one supposed to be dead, reappears in the columns of the Atlantic, as a writer of a paper on "The Railroad and the Farms" question; in which, notwithstanding the conclusive teachings of experience, he still clings to his old theory that Protection does not protect, and lays the whole responsibility of the high rates of transportation at the door of the tariff. The people, however, differ from him as widely on this question as they did on that of the Presidential succession last year.

The Supreme Court of Iowa, in a suit brought against a railroad company by the father of a little child two or three years old who was killed by a passing train, has awarded damages to the amount of $4,750, based upon the average duration of the life of a child of that age as proven from the tables of life insurance actuaries, and the loss which the estate of the child had suffered from its death—this estate commencing at twenty-one years and continuing for the probable duration of its life. The company will appeal the case to the Supreme Court of the United States. It involves an important principle.

In view of the present varying laws and practice in the different States of the Union concerning the acquisition, enjoyment and disposition of real and personal property; the forms and requirements of wills, deeds, mortgages, notes, receipts; the rules of taking and certifying depositions, and other similar matters, it is proposed that a convention of delegates from all the States be called, to be composed of the ablest and best men of the various Commonwealths, to recommend to the State Legislatures a uniform system of laws and forms for the adoption of all the States upon such matters, as uniformity would be desirable.

The friends of the regular Republican county ticket in Huntingdon have fought a hard, but successful fight. Last year the county gave Hartranft only 550 majority; and this year, although they have had to fight against a formidable looking bolt, got up in the interest of a troublesome and persistent faction, they have given the State ticket 700 majority, and elected their county ticket triumphantly, in spite of the bolt, and of the third ticket run in its behalf. Now that this factional fight has been fought out, we may reasonably anticipate that we have seen and heard the last of it. The bolters staked their all on the independent move they got up, and having been thoroughly beaten, should be content to drop their useless struggle.

Apropos of the "shrinkage" of stock values during the past few weeks, of which so much has been said, it is an interesting question as to how great an extent Vanderbilt, by declining to pay his honest debts, is primarily responsible therefor. He owed the Union Trust Company a million and three-quarters of dollars, which, had he paid, that institution would, in all probability, have successfully weathered the storm. By refusing to perform this act of Simple justice he gave an impetus to the panic which, since its outbreak, is calculated to have reduced the value of stocks to an aggregate amount of fifty millions of dollars, his own losses being estimated at from fifteen to twenty millions—a most righteous and richly deserved retribution, the majority of straightforward people will be pretty apt to conclude.

A decision which embraces a principle of general interest has just been rendered by the Supreme court of Michigan, in a case which involved the question whether a person who becomes an original associate for the formation of a railway company and signs a subscription agreeing to take a certain number of shares of the capital stock of such proposed company, and to pay therefor "at such time and in such sums as the same shall be assessed and required to be paid by the directors of said company," but who afterwards fails for any reason to sign the articles of incorporation, or to subscribe for stock on the Commissioner's books, can be held liable upon his preliminary subscription after the company has been formed and assessments been made and payment demanded. The Court ruled that he can be so held.

Personal defamation, in a political contest, is but a poor, miserable weapon. Last year the Democrats in this State tried it to their hearts' content, and were punished terribly for it: but they were not satisfied with that experience, and have this year repeated the vile slanders that proved so futile in last year's campaign. The low abuse that was in 1872 poured out upon Governor Hartranft was again resorted to, against Mr. Mackey, and with a similar result. General Hartranft obtained the unexampled majority of over 35,000, and the State Treasurer, in the teeth of similar vilification, has been re-elected by a majority nearly the same. The Democrats of this State have, therefore, tested the uselessness of this weapon in two encounters, and it is to be hoped that they will now consent to throw it aside. They have done themselves no good by persisting in its use, and they have done our party no harm: and if they are not utterly devoid of sense they will learn, from this experience, that decency and gentlemanliness count for more, in the long run, than wallowing in the mire of personal filth.

Some statistics regarding the condition of the colored people of Louisiana were given by Senator Pinchback a few days ago, in a speech delivered by him in Chicago, to whose those who are accustomed to think and speak of this class of citizens as voluntarily ignorant, idle and thriftless, would do well to pay heed. At the close of the war there were less than a hundred schools in the State, of which fifty were in New Orleans; while of a quarter of a million of children of the school age only thirty-one thousand were enrolled. Now they have one thousand one hundred schools in the state, and over one hundred thousand scholars, of whom more than one-half are colored. The colored people also own $60,000,000 out of the taxable property of the State, which amounts to $225,000,000. Moreover, although they possess a little less than a fourth of the property, yet they pay more than a fourth of the taxes, because many of the white property owners are tax resisters. The productions of the State amount yearly to $20,000,000, and of this amount $15,000,000 is not only produced by the colored people, but is owned by them. They are their own proprietors. These two elements, education and wealth, make the State, and in face of these encouraging facts it is simply an outrage to claim that the colored people are making no progress.

THE STATE DEPOSITS.

The Auditor General, yesterday, filed in the Supreme Court his answer to the complaint of the Democratic County Committee of Dauphin county, that they had applied to him for a copy of the return of the State Treasurer of the deposits made by that officer of the public funds, and had been refused, and asking for a mandamus to compel him to furnish the copy applied for. The answer of the Auditor General is given in our columns to day, and we invite a careful perusal of it.

The answer shows, conclusively, that the refusal complained of was made by a clerk during his absence; that he left orders with the chief clerk to furnish whatever was called for by any one legally entitled thereto; that the clerk who refused the Democratic applicants was not the chief clerk (to whom no application was made), but a subordinate one; that the editor of the Harrisburg Patriot, the Chairman of the Dauphin county Democratic Committee, and various other leading Democrats, have been offered every facility for examining the State Treasurer's accounts, which they have refused; and that he stands ready, and always has stood ready, to exhibit the public accounts to any one who desires to examine them.

From all this it appears that it was not an examination of the public accounts which this Democratic Committee wanted; for they have never availed themselves of the offers frequently made to them, of access to the books of the Auditor General, and they made no appearance yesterday, in Court, to back up their application for a mandamus. They do not want the mandamus, nor do they want an examination of the States Treasurer's accounts; what they wanted was the refusal which they got, and they got it solely because the Auditor General was temporarily absent, and the clerk to whom they applied mistook his duty in the premises. What they desired was a refusal, that they might make political capital out of it; and they timed their visit to the Auditor General's office so as to make sure of finding that official out of the way. It was a smart piece of demagogism; and as it failed to answer its purpose, the schemers have no longer any motive to follow it up. The application for a mandamus, it is plain, will not be pressed; and the Democratic County Committee of Dauphin has shown, by its refusal to accept the repeated offers of the Auditor General, that it has no desire to examine into the condition of the State Treasurer's accounts. It was not the public good it wanted to subserve; but finding an opportunity for a little cheap political clap-trap, it could not resist the temptation to use it.

The one solid fact remains, for public information, that the accounts of all State officials are always open to examination in the Auditor General's office. The State Treasurer has always invited the closest scrutiny into his accounts, and has never shrunk from any effort at investigation. On the very day that this Committee visited the Auditor General's office, the Philadelphia Age published the statement that they applied for, obtained by its editor at that office but a day or two before, and the editor of the Harrisburg Patriot has been offered the same facilities for obtaining the same information, which shows that there is and has been no purpose to conceal the information from the public. It is accessible to whoever wants it, whenever application is properly made for it; and the fact that it was refused in this particular instance only proves that the application was not properly made, or made to the wrong person. The whole business was a piece of contemptible political trickery; and the participators in it showed their consciousness of this fact by declining to put in an appearance yesterday to back up the application so ostentatiously made.

The election being now over, and there being no further political purpose to serve by following up an inquiry that was not begun in good faith, it would not be too much to ask the Democratic papers of the State to lay the facts correctly before their readers; but it would be too much, entirely, to expect of them. Fairness is no part of a Democratic editor's policy, and therefore we do not look for it; but it is not unreasonable to suppose that the public, generally, will judge fairly in this matter from the facts already adduced, and we submit the Auditor General's answer as a complete vindication of the State officers from the charges made against them, and from the vile insinuations that were made to do duty as charges. Both sides have been heard, now, and we are content to abide by the public judgment.

THE NEW YORK DEFALCATION.

Two years ago the Republicans of New York elected a man named Raines to the office of State Treasurer. He had a high personal reputation for honesty and integrity: but he was a warm friend of Senator Fenton, and last year he turned his back on his political friends and went off into the Greeley movement. His reasons for leaving the Republican party were that it had grown corrupt, and that it was necessary, in order to maintain public honesty, to establish a new party, upon purer principles and with higher aims.

About the time that Mr. Raines felt it his duty, in the interest of public purity and honesty, to leave the Republican party, Senator Fenton pressed upon him the appointment of a man named Phelps, as Cashier of the State Treasury. Phelps had been turned out of the New York Custom House, because he had made an office-broker of himself, and openly sold subordinate positions therein; but notwithstanding this taint on his reputation, Raines, who was disgusted with the corruption in the Republican party, appointed him Cashier, and put the State revenues in his care.

This year the Republicans of New York did not nominate Mr. Raines for Treasurer; and the Liberal Republicans of that State, sickened, as they said, by this abandonment of an officer who stood so high in their esteem, demanded of the Democrats that they should nominate him, and testify, thereby, against the corruptness of the Republicans in throwing over an officer so honest, so pure, and so upright. The Democrats did so. Mr. Raines is to-day their candidate for State Treasurer, and they doubtless felt, in making him such, that they were driving a good bargain for themselves.

And now it turns out that this Phelps, put into the State Treasury by Raines, simultaneously with his own adhesion to the Liberal Republican movement, is a thief of the first water. He has stolen $900,000 of the State money, right under Mr. Raines' nose; and if he did it without Raines' knowledge, it is but a poor compliment to the capacity of the latter for so important a place. Clearly, if Raines allowed his office to be so managed as to make this theft possible without his knowledge, he has proved himself utterly incompetent for the position. We wish the Democrats of New York much joy of their candidate for State Treasurer.

The developments in this case may serve a purpose in showing that, generally, the men who prate the most and talk the loudest about public purity and political honesty, are not themselves the most worthy of trust. Patriotism, of old, was proverbially the last refuge of scoundrels; and in these latter days, when patriotism has not so good a market, purity and honesty serve the turn as well. Raines was so pure that he could not stay in the Republican party, and he and his man Phelps have doubtless preached many a political sermon to the people of the Empire State about the necessity of selecting the purest and best men for office: but exposure has overtaken them too suddenly for their own welfare. The people have learned a valuable, perhaps a very dear, lesson; but that lesson, contrary to the expectation of the conspirators, is not the duty of re-electing Raines, but the prudence of suspecting the purity and uprightness of men who boast too much of the possession of those qualities.

A Look at Wall Street.

(From the Evening Mail.)

If you go down to Wall street you will find the blues, most "tired," hopeless, woe-begone set of unfortunates to be seen anywhere. The bottom is all out. Everything is going to "the demnition bowwows," and a general "bust up" is as firmly believed in as the Second Advent used to be by the Millerites. Just now Wall street is a good place to keep away from, if you want so be cheerful and to keep your head clear and level. But outside of that limited area are crowds of gored Bears and lacerated Bulls, the aspect of the situation is quite cheerful. While Lake Shore stock is running down to most melancholy depths of depression, the road is doing an unparalleled business—having earned nearly $5,000,000 more this year than during the same time last. The earnings of about twenty-five roads show an increase of receipts last month over those of September, 1872, of more than ten per cent. Of course there are sensible men by the thousands here and across the water who will "pick up" the low stocks. The vast produce movement does not stop in sympathy with Wall street dullness. Yesterday, for instance, 356,351 bushels of wheat arrived here—about the average receipts. Gold is coming over at the rate of $5,000,000 a week. We are steadily nearing resumption. Yet Wall street is not happy.

The treasury holds from national banks to secure circulation $260,410,250, and to secure the government deposits $15,560,000, an increase in the first item of $10,000,000 and a decrease in the latter of $200,000. The business of the treasury transacted through national banks, during the past fiscal year, was $114,000,000.

PERSONAL.

Governor Hartranft will be present and participate in the dedication of Pardee Hall, Lafayette College, Easton, on the 21st inst. The members of the 51st Pennsylvania volunteers will act as the Governor's body-guard on the occasion.

Some of our fellow-citizens who claim descent from the Northmen propose to set up a monument to that hardy viking, Leif, son of Eric the Red, who it is said, discovered the shores of New England, Newfoundland and Labrador in the year 1000.

General Longstreet has got a patent sawing machine, and is making lots of sawdust and some money.

The Graphic is rapidly drifting to the bad, and has got far enough on the road to call Eli Perkins a "celebrated American humorist."

Governor Straw, of New Hampshire, who was one of the judges at the baby show at the State Fair last week, was surprised, Saturday, by finding on his doorstep an infant about two months old. Having had enough of babies for one week, the Governor turned the infant over to the police authorities.

P. J. Peterson and F. H. Brandt, the original discoverers of the Little Annie, Del Norte, and Margretta lodes, in Colorado, have just sold out their claims for $410,000 cash. These men, one of whom is a Swede and the other a German, are thus suddenly raised to opulence, and will immediately visit their wondering relatives in Europe.

The San Francisco News Letter impolitely alludes to Mr. Joaquin Miller as "the long-haired, greasy howler of the Sierras," and ridicules his attempt to pass himself off upon the English public as an (ex) head man among the Modocs. A Modoc chief would hardly deign to eat out of the same dish with him, it says.

The study of America and the biarsted people and institutions is now becoming a favorite among Englishmen. If we needed any further evidence than the successive arrivals of Dickens, Froude, Yates, Bradbaugh, Arch, Collins and Massey, we have it in the speech of Mr. Baxter, M.P., at Dundee, a few days ago, recommending increased intercourse with America, and advising every public man in England to visit it.

The audience given by the Emperor of China to the foreign Envoys does not appear to have been granted very willingly. The official announcement was worded in the most insulting terms, and was supplemented by the following sentence in the North China Herald: "Here are those rascally dogs of foreigners actually leasing to get a sight of the face of the son of heaven, and our too timid Ministers consenting to admit them to the privilege. What is the world coming to?"

Cora Wilson, a girl of fifteen, died at Shoreham, Maine, last week, after suffering for a year from a very singular disease, and one that was beyond the ken of the physicians. She was completely paralyzed,—could not even move her little finger,—and every particle of her hair, even to her eyebrows, dropped off, and a thick incrustation formed over her entire body. This scab was white as snow, and would drop off regularly every month, leaving her skin soft and tender, but a new one would form within twenty-four hours. Her appetite was even good, and she has suffered little pain. No physician who attended her ever heard of a similar case.

Gen. Butler and Jefferson Davis arrived in Washington the other day, both coming in the same car, from New York. It is said Davis avoided Butler, while the latter showed no disposition to renew the old acquaintance.

Among the members of the Wyoming Legislature are "Black Jack Bill," "Prairie Joe," "Slim Sam Shaw" and "Grizzly Graham." The Speaker will also have to recognize the gentleman from "Hen Fruit claim" and the gentleman from "Buffalo Horn corners."

Troops of Ailments Vanquished.

On account of the promptness with which it checks the fevers generated by unhealthy exhalations, Hostetter's Bitters is considered an indispensable family medicine on the borders of our Southern and Western rivers, and in new settlements where the plough and the axe are for the first time disturbing the solitudes of nature. Its reputation, however, is not confined to such localities. Wherever the elements of disease are rife it is the surest safeguard of health; wherever sickness prevails, it is efficacious as a remedy. Among the serious diseases which it is guaranteed to control are indigestion, biliousness, and all the minor ailments connected with derangements of the stomach, the liver and the bowels—such as heartburn, headache, flatulence, costiveness, nausea, distaste for food, languor and debility, palpitation of the heart, trembling of the hands, noises in the ears, disordered vision, disturbed sleep, and mental inquietude. As these physical and mental disturbances tend to a general failure of all the powers of the system, they should be at once corrected—as they always may be by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

FRIDAY EVENING, October 17, 1873.

The subject of the feasibility of resumption is receiving a good deal of attention from the press and the public, and all the theories, new and old, confirmed as true or exploded as false are coming into notice. The theorists who write without experience would have us believe it is an easy thing to accomplish and evolve from their consciousness magnificent schemes for bringing us back to the old specie basis of anti-war times. But practical financiers who have given the best efforts of minds trained in the management of our moneyed institutions for a lifetime are slow to express very decided opinions on the subject.

That we can have the same system that existed before suspension seems more than doubtful, as the whole machinery of our banks is organized on very different principles from those in vogue under the State bank management.

The basis of our present banking fabric is built very similarly to that of the Bank of England. There the issues of the independent banks are redeemable in Bank of England notes, and the notes of the bank are redeemable in coin. With us the issues of our National banks are redeemable in legal tenders, which in turn rest upon the credit of the government.

The truth is that when the Treasury is in a position to challenge the payment of greenbacks and to maintain that attitude, the legal tenders may be made permanently worth their face in gold; and—retaining them in circulation, with their legal tender functions, and as the basis of banking operations as at present—we have then a restoration of specie values throughout the entire business of the country. This specie basis may differ from what we had before the war, and from anything that exists elsewhere, but it would nevertheless be sound, economical, and absolutely reliable for all the purposes of commerce. At any rate, this seems to be the only method of resumption within the range of actual achievement.

—The progress making by the banks of New York to return to payments of currency is not very gratifying to those who are the chief sufferers, those who have their funds on deposit with them.

While the cities of the West are one by one resuming, the banks of New York seem to grow more decrepid than ever. They refuse to pay their depositors in anything but their own certified checks, and offset their indebtedness to each other in promises to pay, based on collaterals which no one knows the value of. We have the authority of the New York Express for the statement that the Associated banks of that city have but five and a half millions of legal tenders to show for a deposit line of one hundred and fifty millions. Take away the protection of the Clearing House certificates and they are worse off than Henry Clews & Co., or Fisk & Hatch ever were.

We doubt if there is a bank in the New York Clearing House that could pay off, without notice, the proportion of deposits that the above named firms paid.

Unprotected and without assistance, with a very large proportion of their funds locked up in three suspended National banks, the private bankers of New York met the storm and have stood firm, a less number of them suspending than there would have been among the National banks, had they attempted to go through without the assistance of the Clearing House certificates and the pooling of their reserves.

This organized effort to break the private banks has been tacitly if not actively assisted by the Treasury Department in refusing to cash 5-20 bonds for any private individuals, although they needed the money to meet the demands upon their deposits, and who would have paid it out to the general public instead of doing as we are assured by the Financial Chronicle they did do—lock these greenbacks in their vaults in the shape of special deposits.

The slowness to return to payments of currency shows the truth of our statements and the weakness of the associated banks of New York city.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, }

REMARKS.—There was more stir on the streets today than has been exhibited for some days. Those who were in the city to-day were buying for the purpose of making purchases if they could make them on time and not for cash. To this our merchants strongly objected, only allowing goods to go to time customers in but very few instances. It we may judge from the invoices at the different railroad offices, potatoes of all kinds have arrived in abundance and are now glutting the market.

Below will be found the receipts of the leading articles of produce during the past twenty-four hours:

In our market we can quote them at 22c ₰ doz.

FISH—Have undergone no change in prices and our list remains unchanged as follows: Extra No 1 mess mackerel, $23; No 1 new mackerel, $18; extra No 1 shore mackerel, $20; extra No 1 bay mackerel, $19; No 1 bay mackerel, $17; extra No 2 shore mackerel, $17; No 2 bay mackerel, $14; large No 3 mackerel, $11; No 3 mackerel, $10; split Labrador herring, $8 50 ₰ white fish, $7 50@8 00; lake trout, $7 00@7 50; large Georges codfish, $7 50 ₰ 100; medium Georges codfish, $6 50 ₰ 100.

Oats, sacks	4,000	Rye, sacks	351

GROCERS' MARKET—Every day brings the country merchant to the city to see if he cannot make concessions whereby he can lay in a large stock of groceries without paying cash down for them. This he finds he is unable to do, and returns with but a small a stock as he possibly can get along with. Below will be found the correct quotations governing this market:

Sugars—Crushed sugar, 11¾c; granulated, 11½c; powdered, 11¾c; cut loaf, 12¾c; A, 11c; B, 10¾c; extra C, 10¾c; circle C, 10½c; Franklin extra C, 10c; Franklin extra C, No 2, 9½c; Franklin C, yellow, 9¾c; Johnson & Sons C, 9¾c; other grades, 9@9½c.

HAY—Continues dull of sale, and will remain so as long as the farmers continue to bring it in on their wagons loose. We learned of a sale of a car lot of baled timothy for $25 ₰ ton. What hay is sold here is usually offered and sold at $22@24 ₰ ton.

HOMINY—Is in good supply, and the demand light at $6 00 ₰ bbl.

POULTRY—We noticed the arrival of a number of market wagons to-day with quite a lot of poultry of various sizes, but the demand was not very great, and what were sold went off from 45 to 55c ₰ pair.

PEARL WHEAT—Continues to sell quite readily at $7 50 ₰ case, with 25 ₰ cent. discount.

RAGS—The market is very flat at 2@2½c for country linen rags. Woolen rags are not wanted.

SEEDS—Timothy continues dull at $3 50 but in a small way from store at $3 75 ₰ bushel.

SOAPS—Continues to sell well, there being no diminution in either the demand or supply, and by the case of six dozen, we can quote it at $6 00, and for the hand sapolio $5 00 ₰ case.

SOAP—Country soap is in good supply and dealers are holding it at 5@6c ₰ lb.

TALLOW—Market very quiet at 6¾@7c ₰ lb.

VINEGAR—Choice cider vinegar can be quoted at 15@18c ₰ gallon.

VEGETABLES AND FRUITS—Our market still continues at a dead lock owing to shippers sending more goods to this market than our merchants can handle. Such is the case with apples and potatoes, at least. We have on our streets some of the finest apples and potatoes that are offered anywhere for sale, with few or no purchasers.

Grapes are not inquired after so freely as we would like to see. The varieties are very good and the prices low.

Sweet potatoes are in but moderate request, and some very fine lots were shipped at the quotations given below.

The following are the prices which dealers were asking for the various articles below:

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, }
SATURDAY, October 18, 1873. }

REMARKS.—There was nothing on the Way to-day that gave any indication of life or animation to the oil trade. All through the oil regions our dispatches put the market dull and prices unchanged.

CRUDE

is also unchanged in price at 3½@3¾c ₰ gallon, though there is reported to be a little weaker feeling above. There are few sales to report at

REFINED.

Reports from the East state that the markets are declining and shipping sparingly. We can quote refined at 13@13½c, according to shipment. The market for Philadelphia delivery continues unsettled.

OIL BARRELS.

The market is rather excited. This is no doubt caused by the light receipts of new barrels by either river or rails. The consequence is that coopers are asking $2 40@2 45 for city made. Holders of oil who have large contracts to fill must have the barrels, no matter what they cost, and the supply becomes more liberal the demand will continue good at these quotations.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF THE PIG IRON AND BLOOM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, }
SATURDAY, October 18, 1873. }

The condition of the market for pig iron is anything but satisfactory. The sales reported for the past business of the last two weeks, and do not indicate any quotable change in prices.

The great uncertainty as to the demand for manufactured iron makes it impossible to effect sales, unless at a price very much below us at market rates, and but few holders are willing to take the concessions demanded. Only those who have ready cash to pay.

We are reported the following sales:

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, }
FRIDAY, October 17, 1873. }

Cattle.

The receipts of cattle, though light, are still too many for the market. Trade continues dull and slow, and no improvement is looked for this week. While it can be said that there were no really extra steers on sale, there were some droves that were considered good. The majority of the sales of good stock ranged from $5 25 to $5 50, with one or two at $5 60 to $5 75. Nothing we believe brought 6c, but it is said that a drove of extra cattle, smooth and nice, might do so. On the whole the market was dull and unsatisfactory, and one which lost money for those who had stock in it. Trade closes dull at the following figures:

Extra 1,400 to 1,500 lbs cattle, $5 75 to 6c; extra 1,300 lbs do, $5 50 to $5 60; prime 1,200 lbs do, $5 00 to $5 25; fair 1,100 lbs do, $4 25 to $4 50; fair 1,000 lbs do, $3 75 to $4 00; bulls, $2 50 to $3 00.

Hogs.

The receipt of hogs are lighter than during the first of the week. The reports of bad market being telegraphed over the country, has caused shippers to hold for the present, until the glut is removed and a better feeling shown. Trade continues slow, but with lighter arrivals sellers are more hopeful, and exhibit more firmness than at the first of the week.

Following are the prices current:

Extra Philadelphia, $4 75; prime Philadelphia, $4 60 to $4 65; prime Yorkers, $4 50 to $4 60; common, $4 25 to $4 40.

Sheep.

The run of sheep light; the market has ruled good all week and closed strong at about the following figures:

Extra 100 lbs, $5 50; extra 95 lbs, $5 25 to $5 40; prime 90 lbs, $4 85 to $5 00; fair 85 lbs, $4 50 to $4 75; fair 80 lbs, $4 00 to $4 25.

has been firmer on a less active business. The price ranged from 107¾ to 108¾, opening at the former and closing at the latter quotations. Rates paid for carrying were 6, 6, 7, 4, 3 and 2 per cent. gold and for borrowing 1-32 to flat. The final rate was 1-32 per cent. for carrying. Clearings $47,000,000. Deaf Mute Sabbath School.

We are requested to announce to our deaf mute friends and others, that the Mission Sabbath School for the deaf and dumb, heretofore held in the Fourth ward public school, has been removed to the First United Presbyterian church, Seventh avenue, Pittsburgh, and will continue to open as usual at 1¾ o'clock p. m. The school is in charge of Mr. A. Woodside, as superintendent.

Closing Saloons at Midnight

Mayor Blackmore announces his intention to compel the closing of all drinking saloons, as required by law, at midnight. It is stated that most of the disorders occur after that hour and in the hope of preventing trouble occasioned by men "loafing" about drinking places the most stringent enforcement of the law has been decided upon.

Allegheny Valley Time Table.

Attention is called to the change in the time table of the Allegheny Valley Railroad, which takes place on and after October 20, 1873.
